

Bassist Michael Burd's passion for collaboration is fueled by opportunities to contribute to performances and projects with artists such as David Mallett and Noel Paul Stookey. By day he's Franklin County Adult Education's 21st Century Literacy Instructor. He also gleefully shepherds the Merry Plinksters Ukulele Ensemble from one hometown stage to the next. When not teaching or performing, you'll likely find him wandering around the countryside with a vintage film camera around his neck; chronicling colorful stories in black and white. A Mainer by birth and by choice; Michael makes his home in the foothills of Western Maine with his wife Cindy.
